Industrial Visit to S. Kant Healthcare Limited, Vapi

Learning Beyond Classrooms… Experiencing the Real Industry!

Introduction

As a part of our academic curriculum, 57 students of Third Year B. Pharm (5th Semester) visited S. Kant Healthcare Limited, Vapi, Gujarat, on 17 September 2026. The visit was organised to provide practical exposure to pharmaceutical manufacturing and industrial operations. It helped us connect classroom knowledge from subjects like Industrial Pharmacy, Pharmaceutics, Pharmaceutical Engineering, Quality Assurance and Pharmaceutical Analysis with real-world practices.

S. Kant Healthcare Limited is a pharmaceutical formulation manufacturing company of the SK Group. The Vapi facility manufactures various dosage forms including tablets, capsules, dry powders, oral liquids, syrups, suspensions, creams, ointments and gels.

Objectives of the Visit

- Understand the functioning of a pharmaceutical industry.
- Observe raw material receipt, storage, testing and dispensing.
- Understand FIFO & FEFO systems.
- Learn about tablet, capsule, liquid and semisolid manufacturing.
- Understand primary, secondary and tertiary packaging.
- Observe the role of IPQA and inspection in maintaining quality.
- Understand the importance of GMP, personal hygiene, documentation and safety.
- Interact with industry professionals and an SSR College alumnus.
- Develop awareness about practical skills, higher education and career opportunities.

Safety Briefing & Entry Procedure

Entry and Safety Procedure

- Gown
- Head cover
- Face mask
- Foot covers

The students reached the facility at approximately 10:00 AM and gathered at the Gurukul. Before entering operational areas, safety instructions were provided and protective clothing was worm. This highlighted the importance of personal hygiene and contamination control in pharmaceutical manufacturing.

FIFO & FEFO Systems

First In, First Out
(matter received first is issued first)

First Expiry, First Out
(earlier expiry/retest date is used first)

Packaging Material Department

We observed materials like blister packs, aluminium foil, bottles, caps, labels, cartons, leaflets and shipper boxes.

Three Levels of Packaging

- Primary (e.g., blister, strip, bottle, tube)
- Secondary (e.g., cartons, labels, leaflets)
- Tertiary (transportation, storage, bulk handling)

Barcodes and traceability are essential for accurate identification and safe handling of pharmaceutical products.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING AT DABUR INDIA LIMITED

Industry–Institute Interaction Cell (IIIC) Activity – 2026

SSR College of Pharmacy, Sayli-Silvassa
Final Year B. Pharm – Semester VII

Visit Details

Date	:	18 September 2026
Industry	:	Dabur India Limited
Location	:	Sayli, Silvassa, DNH & Daman and Diu
Participants	:	27 Final Year B. Pharm Students
Faculty Members	:	Ms. Avni Desai, Ms. Jenifer Laurence and Mr. Vipul Prajapati

Our visit to Dabur India Limited, Sayli – Silvassa

About the Visit

As part of the Industry–Institute Interaction Cell (IIIC) Activity – 2026, 27 students of Final Year B. Pharm (Semester VII) visited Dabur India Limited, Sayli–Silvassa, on 18 September 2026, accompanied by Ms. Avni Desai, Ms. Jenifer Laurence and Mr. Vipul Prajapati.

The industrial training provided valuable exposure to the manufacturing, formulation, quality control, packaging, warehousing and safety practices followed in a leading Ayurvedic, healthcare and FMCG organization. The visit helped bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical industrial applications.

Manufacturing & Packaging

Key Areas Observed

During the visit, students gained exposure to:

- Toothpaste manufacturing and formulation processes
- Mixing, processing and filling operations
- Packaging and labelling activities
- Quality Control (QC) and Quality Assurance (QA)
- Warehousing and storage of materials and finished products
- Manufacturing machinery and equipment
- Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP)
- Industrial hygiene and workplace safety

Products & Manufacturing

The facility is involved in the manufacturing and packaging of various healthcare and personal-care products, including:

Creams • Gels • Ointments • Toothpaste

The visit particularly provided an understanding of the large-scale manufacturing process of toothpaste, including formulation, mixing, processing, filling and packaging operations.

Safety Practices

Students were introduced to important industrial safety practices, including:

- Use of appropriate PPE
- Safe operation and guarding of machinery
- Fire safety and emergency procedures
- Safety training and hazard reporting
- Risk assessment and workplace monitoring
- LOTO (Lockout/Tagout) and work-permit procedures where applicable

WORLD PHARMACISTS DAY CELEBRATION

Better Health • Brighter Future

1. Inauguration and Health Check-up

The celebration commenced at 9:30 AM with an inauguration ceremony led by Dr. Chandrakant Bonde, Principal, SSR College of Pharmacy. The inaugural session marked the formal commencement of the World Pharmacists Day celebrations and set the tone for the activities planned throughout the day.

Following the inauguration, a health check-up programme for students and staff was conducted from 9:30 AM to 11:00 AM at the Pharmacology Laboratory. The activity was coordinated by Ms. Priya Shukla, with Mr. Nishit Parekh and Ms. Jenifer Lawrence as members. The health check-up activity promoted awareness about the importance of health monitoring and preventive healthcare.

2. Rally Campaign and Skit Performance

A rally campaign was organized from 11:30 AM to 12:30 PM on the theme "Empowering Pharmacists for Healthier Futures." The rally followed the route SSR Pharmacy → SSR ACS → SSR IM & → SSR B.Ed. → SSR Pharmacy. The rally aimed to spread awareness about the pharmacy profession and the significant contribution of pharmacists to public health and healthcare services.

A skit performance by students was also conducted as part of the awareness campaign. The performance provided an engaging platform to communicate important messages related to the pharmacy profession and healthcare awareness.

The activity was coordinated by Ms. Varsha Agarwal, with Ms. Payal Kholiya, Ms. Tejashri Shinde, and Ms. Ruchita Rajput as members.

3. Quiz Competition

A Quiz Competition was conducted from 1:30 PM to 2:30 PM. The competition provided students with an opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge, enhance their understanding of pharmacy-related subjects, and participate in an engaging academic activity.

The activity was coordinated by Dr. Himanshu Solanki, with Ms. Bhavini Rohit and Ms. Ankita Das as members.

Winners of the Quiz Competition

Position	Team Name	Team Members
1st Prize	Triple Ace	Ashutosh Bal, Sweta Jaiswal, Emmanuel Multani
2nd Prize	A2K Team	Aanchal Kumari, Aastha Sharma, Karan Panchal
3rd Prize	Pharma Synergy	Aditya Chamiyal, Dhruvi Mahida, Harnil Soni

The quiz competition encouraged teamwork, knowledge sharing, and academic enthusiasm among the participating students.

4. Elocution Competition

An Elocution Competition was organized from 2:30 PM to 3:30 PM. The activity provided students a platform to express their views on relevant topics, develop confidence, and demonstrate their communication and presentation skills.

The activity was coordinated by Mr. Vipulkumar Prajapati, with Dr. Sonal Desai and Mr. Mehul Rohit as members.

Winners of the Elocution Competition

Position	Name of Winner
1st Prize	Vanshika Kulshrestha
2nd Prize	Ashutosh Pandey
3rd Prize	Anurag Pandey

The competition encouraged students to express their ideas effectively and strengthened their public-speaking and presentation abilities.

5. Poster Presentation Competition

A Poster Presentation Competition was conducted from 2:30 PM to 3:30 PM. The competition encouraged students to present their ideas through creative and informative visual representations on relevant pharmacy-related topics. It provided an opportunity for participants to demonstrate their creativity, subject knowledge, and ability to communicate scientific information visually.

The activity was coordinated by Dr. Smita Bonde, with Dr. Lata Manani, Dr. Ishwar Parmar, and Ms. Avni Desai as members.

Winners of the Poster Presentation Competition

Position	Name of Winner
1st Prize	Patel Sejal
2nd Prize	Vaishnavi Gupta
3rd Prize	Tanvi Pardeshi

The poster presentation competition promoted creativity, scientific communication, and awareness of pharmacy-related themes among students.

6. Prize Distribution Ceremony and Vote of Thanks

The celebration concluded with a Prize Distribution Ceremony from 3:30 PM to 4:00 PM, during which prizes were distributed to the winners of the Quiz Competition, Elocution Competition, and Poster Presentation Competition. The ceremony recognized the efforts, participation, and achievements of the students.

The activity was coordinated by Ms. Kajal Patil, with Ms. Parthika Patel, Ms. Darshana Patel, and Ms. Hemangi Rathod as members.

Congratulations to all the Winners!

The programme concluded with a Vote of Thanks delivered by Dr. Parixit Prajapati, Coordinator of the World Pharmacists Day Celebration 2026. He expressed sincere gratitude to the SSR Memorial Trust and its Chair Bearers, Dr. Chandrakant Bonde, Principal, SSR College of Pharmacy, all faculty members, students, participants, volunteers, non-teaching staff, and supporting staff for their valuable support, cooperation, and contribution towards the successful completion of the celebration.

Abstract

Growing concerns regarding plastic pollution have accelerated the development of biodegradable and sustainable food packaging materials. Soy protein isolate (SPI) has emerged as a promising renewable biopolymer owing to its excellent film-forming ability, biodegradability, and compatibility with functional additives. However, its high water sensitivity and relatively poor mechanical properties continue to limit its commercial application. Although several reviews on SPI-based fatty films have been published, these studies have primarily focused on fabrication methods, material properties, or active packaging applications separately, with limited quantitative comparison of different modification strategies. This review addresses this gap by critically evaluating recent advances in polymer blending, cross-linking, nanocomposite reinforcement, multifunctional additives, and emerging intelligent packaging technologies, while assessing their effects on film performance and commercialization potential. The reviewed studies demonstrate that these modification strategies improved tensile strength by 25-231% and reduced water vapor permeability by 7.7-40%, depending on formulation and

ABSTRACT

Mucilage extracted from Caesalpinia crista seeds, an unexplored natural polymer, was extracted using Soxhlet extraction followed by precipitation, with a yield of 4.41% ± 0.05%. Fourier Transform Infrared Spectroscopy (FTIR) analysis confirmed the presence of hydroxyl (—OH), carbonyl (C=O), and glycosidic bonds, indicating a polysaccharide structure. Proton Nuclear Magnetic Resonance (^{1}H NMR) and Carbon-13 Nuclear Magnetic Resonance (^{13}C NMR) spectra identified sugar residues and uronic acids, confirming their complex carbohydrate composition. X-Ray diffraction (XRD) analysis revealed a broad peak at 2θ between 20°–25°, indicating an amorphous nature. Thermogravimetric Analysis (TGA) showed three-stage decomposition with good thermal stability. At the same time, Field Emission Scanning Electron Microscopy (FE–SEM) and High-Resolution Transmission Electron Microscopy (HR–TEM) analyses revealed a porous, nanostructured morphology. Energy dispersive x-ray spectroscopy (EDX) mapping confirmed high carbon (44.2%) and oxygen (21.3%) content, with trace elements. Protein content (28.40 g/100 g) contributed to emulsification, while fiber content (soluble: 0.0534 g/100 g, insoluble: 0.0956 g/100 g) enhanced the functional properties of the mucilage.
